Shop it with dried flowers
 Wanting to inject a bit of nature into their urban lives, Parisians have fallen for the quaint charms of dried flowers. Heading the trend are sisters Marion and Fouliee Bulhut, who were working on opposite sides of the Channel (in Fashion and Fashion) when they decided to drop everything and open a boutique entirely devoted to herbam-framed collections of pressed flowers, exotic leaves and grasses, such as the one pictured here (prices from £70). It also hosts regular workshops where you can craft your own floral masterpieces (800).
